6,000 Overcoats

For Less Than the Cloth Cost Before Cutting at the

Putnam Clothing House

We can and will undersell any Clothing House in Chicago. The Overcoats are the finest that can be made from such well-known Overcoatings as Schaefer's German Chinchillas, Cramlie's Scotch Elysians, Imported Shetlands, English Meltons and Kerseys, and the very finest American Overcoatings.

The same fabrics that fine merchant tailors use in their Overcoats worth from $30 to $75. Stylish light colors in Chinchillas, Shetlands, Kerseys, and Meltons, so popular with the young men. They are elegantly made and trimmed. Fit cannot be equaled. Not an overcoat in the lot worth less than $18, and from that up to $30. You can buy them from $15.50 to $20.50, and we make our usual profits. Main Under Overcoats than any two Clothing Houses in Chicago. Shetlands, Irish Frize, Ulsterettes, Fur-Beavers, Canada Homespuns, and heavy Overcoatings made up heavy long. Wool linings, large collars. Prices from $5 to $25. We Have No Time for Argument.

Our appeal to your reason through a few common-sense remarks. It is a well-known fact that we are constantly maligned and villified by our numerous competitors who are always green with jealousy at the wonderful success we have achieved and at the increasing popularity we enjoy. Everything that is done to induce patrons to visit us and with a secret by those calumniating scoundrels. If we offer a special inducement to close up some odds and ends in our Clothing Department the best immediately get up that it's a bait. If we make a cut in our Hat Department the hats offered are declared to be out of style. If we have a special sale in our Furnishing Department they say we cannot afford to sell goods at such ridiculously low prices.

EPPS'S COCOA.
HOMŒOPATHIC

The judicious blending of the various fine aromatic products of tropical and subtropical countries with the delicate purity of Cocoa, for which the house of Epps has been specially noted, renders it probable that a combination has been effected which will be found to possess in a high degree the nutritive and curative properties adapted to invalids and persons in health. It is the subtle aroma of the delicious beverage which pervades the system, and not the quantity of Cocoa consumed, that gives comfort. Made simply with boiling water or milk. SHE COMMITTED SUICIDE.

THE CONFESSION OF A GIRL FOUND WITH A BULLET IN HER HEART.

Letters Found in the Trunk of a Young Woman Who Had Borrowed Enough Money on Notes from Friends the Manager—Evil Days Predicted for Investors—Evidences that a Misfortune of the Over-Issue Impends Soon.

The body of the young woman found on the lake-shore last of Chicago avenue last Wednesday was identified as that of Mary Hunt, a compositor, whose family live in Keene, Ind. The circumstances were made by C. W. Otis, a druggist at 51 Wilson avenue, who knew the girl and took an interest in her affairs. There seems to be no doubt but she deserted herself as the result of disappointment in love and a fear of her future business and the blasting of the ambitions she had formed in the five years she studied both in the office of the Keene Evening Company at Keene and State street, and at the same time earned a home from the wages.

When the body was taken from the water-logged trunk in the dreary morning on the lake-shore it was found that a number of letters, some of them written in pencil, and evidently in a hurry, had been left by the girl's trunk, a number of clippings were found, showing that she had a large correspondence, and there was found, among the papers, a letter from Mr. Otis, a druggist at 51 Wilson avenue, who knew the girl well, and with whom she had been a boarder. This letter, which was written in response to a request from the Coroner's office, was as follows:

CHICAGO, Nov. 28, 1888.

CORONER'S OFFICE, Chicago:

DEAR SIR: In answer to your request for information concerning Miss Mary Hunt, I will say that she was a boarder at my house for about two years, and left here about the 1st of October, 1887, to go to Keene, Ind., where she has relatives living. She was employed as a compositor on the Keene Evening Herald, and was considered a very good workman. She was a young lady of very good habits, and I never heard her speak of having any trouble with any one. She was very much liked by all who knew her, and I am very much surprised to hear of her death. She was about 23 years of age, and I should think had been dead about two weeks. Yours truly,

C. W. OTIS.

The letters found in the trunk were addressed to Miss Hunt's mother, and were evidently written in the order in which they are given here. The first one was written on the 1st of October, 1887, and was addressed from Keene, Ind., to Chicago. It was as follows:

DEAR MOTHER: I arrived here safely at 6 o'clock this morning, and found Mr. Hunt waiting for me at the depot. He took me to his home, and I am now writing this letter in the sitting-room. I am very tired, as I have had a very hard time of it since I left Chicago. I was sick all the way from Chicago to Logansport, and had to get off the train and lie down in the depot at Logansport for two hours. I was also sick on the train from Logansport to Kokomo, and had to get off the train and lie down in the depot at Kokomo for two hours. I was also sick on the train from Kokomo to Peru, and had to get off the train and lie down in the depot at Peru for two hours. I was also sick on the train from Peru

GEN. SHERMAN ON BLAINE.

He Denies That Blaine Wanted War with Germany in 1885.

A Plain Letter to the Truth and Rebuttal of a Long Statement from the Man Who Has the Letters of Minister Coleman Concerning Correspondence Before the Republican Convention of 1884—Many Words on Religion.

The following article on "James G. Blaine" by Gen. W. T. Sherman, and to which from the North American Review for December:

In this paper will be given equity to preserve from, in the course of events the future most to direct, and the gay New York my history, to assess for right, but I should much prefer of the Standard and my own opinion of a statesman's career which may not pay to the future to contribute to the gain of my fellow-citizens.

In June, 1851, I graduated at the United States Military Academy at West Point, and in accordance with my commission was granted a leave of absence through to report to the Adjutant to Florida. My home was then in the family of the late Thomas Ewing of Lancaster, O. This family was kept constantly supplied with game from the forests and streams of the Muskingum valley, and was also well supplied with fruits and vegetables from the fertile gardens of Lancaster.

Hugh Ewing, a first-lieutenant graduate of the National Military Academy, and a commissioned officer in the First United States artillery, with a battery of fifty or sixty men, was ordered to Florida, and I was ordered to report to him for duty. Ewing was a most lovable man, and his brothers, Thomas, Jr., and Charles, were my classmates at the Academy. Thomas, Jr., was a graduate of Yale College, and had been admitted to the bar, and was practicing in Washington, and Charles was a student-at-law in the office of his father, then a member of the United States Senate from Ohio. Thomas, Jr., was a man of the most liberal education and culture, having graduated from Yale College with the highest honors, and had been admitted to the bar in Washington, and was practicing in the courts of the District of Columbia. The money market was firm and inactive on Saturday closed. Large operations were not and steady. New York exchange was firmer and sterling steady. Stocks in Wall street were active and weak. The Chicago market for provisions was unusually heavy, with little selling by the packers, and prices were easier. On account with Friday part closed 30 cents lower, part 50c, cents lower, 10c lower, and barley steady, 10c to 20c lower, and flaxseed 1c to 2c lower. The receipts of hogs at the Union yards yesterday were estimated by 45,000 head, as against 41,000 head a week ago. The opening of Chicago Corn Exchange for last five months (17,000 bags, against 101,000 for the same time last year and 200,000 bags in 1898).

The St. Louis Republic does Senator Culom a great injustice when it attributes to him the declaration that "neither Hay nor Hawaiian gave." Senator Culom has never favored colonial posts and there is no such proposition included in any of the amendments to the Isthmian canal which he has succeeded in getting through the Senate. The Culom amendments which have passed the Senate and are now in committee of conference relate to such matters as authorizing subsidiary coinage, and have no relation to Hawaii. The Hawaiian question is not involved in any of the Senate amendments.

The Kansas City Journal says that the Democratic party should "declare for the restoration of the Democratic party to power." Why not declare for the restoration of the Democratic party to power? Why not declare for the restoration of the Democratic party to power? Why not declare for the restoration of the Democratic party to power?

HIS ADVENTURES A FEW, AT ONE AND THE SAME TIME.

Subscribers Curious to Question for the Smallest in the Eight Grade — What She Was Taught in Her Days of Service Upon a Suburban Car—How She Was Confronted Yesterday When the Teacher Left the Room—Some Observations.

BOBA is a name said to belong almost to the ancestors of Methuselah, but it is distinctly anachronistic for young this is only getting into existence. Other boys bring the tallowdom every time there should attend a quiz are subject to the discretion of a pupil.

Then was when the boy was known to be Pinkerton or the girl was known to bring the President's wife back to school, or Queen to a long visit, and then for three weeks over a respectful notice of Webster's spelling book and his multiples for all the tastes of life. Then there came to such record as to honestly, and then a danger of a rest the times to realize that recently sent to break out into the cold. "BOBA" AND HARRIET.

A CHARMING AFTERNOON. My good mamma said I can come to the cottage to go home. A half-dozen parents assembled and by children were at the apartments, and evidently admiring the arrival of Mrs. Lucas Lyon, who graduates over two Cottage Grove School.

That seems to primarily a chance-look, dark hair, with a comfortable figure, seems pleased to admire them. Among a a dark and orderly and orderly exponent of her calling, but plain and to.

At last the teacher looked and came to me. She was not old and fair, but a high color and a frank face. She met me in a most friendly way. Her manner and her voice were extremely sweet. She also had a look about her eyes which showed that she had been much accustomed to children.
